every aspect of the library this past year as the community celebrated Harford County Public Library's 65th anniversary. This year's Annual Report of Harford County Public Library and the Harford County Public Library Foundation commemorates the many accomplishments and milestones achieved during this very special year. So much has been made possible with the collaboration and engagement of the Harford County community and the enthusiasm of Library supporters throughout the county.

As we said a fond farewell to staff whose contributions to the public library world would fill a set of encyclopedias, we welcomed new staff members who brought in fresh ideas that will take us into the future with great enthusiasm. Harford County Public Library continued to achieve on a national level with a second designation as a Library Journal Star Library and we broke past records in summer reading and winter reading program registrations. There were headlining visits by noted authors, stories shared as we took the library on the road, and several anniversary milestones achieved. It has truly been a banner year at Harford County Public Library!

The most valuable asset of a public library is its community and Harford County Public Library is fortunate to be located in a county of avid public library users. Harford County Public Library is your source for reading, research, entertainment, community gatherings, and technology. It is a place where headlines are made and wonderful things happen for the entire community.

65 Years Serving the Community

THE LIBRARY TAKES THE

THE LIBRARY TAKES THE STORY ON THE ROAD

Harford County Public Library takes its story on the road and new formats make it possible for customers to virtually experience the library and all its rich resources. For the past 10 years, children have been able to use their library cards and choose their own books on the Rolling Reader. During the school year, the Rolling Reader visits after-school centers and during the summer, visits many community sites.

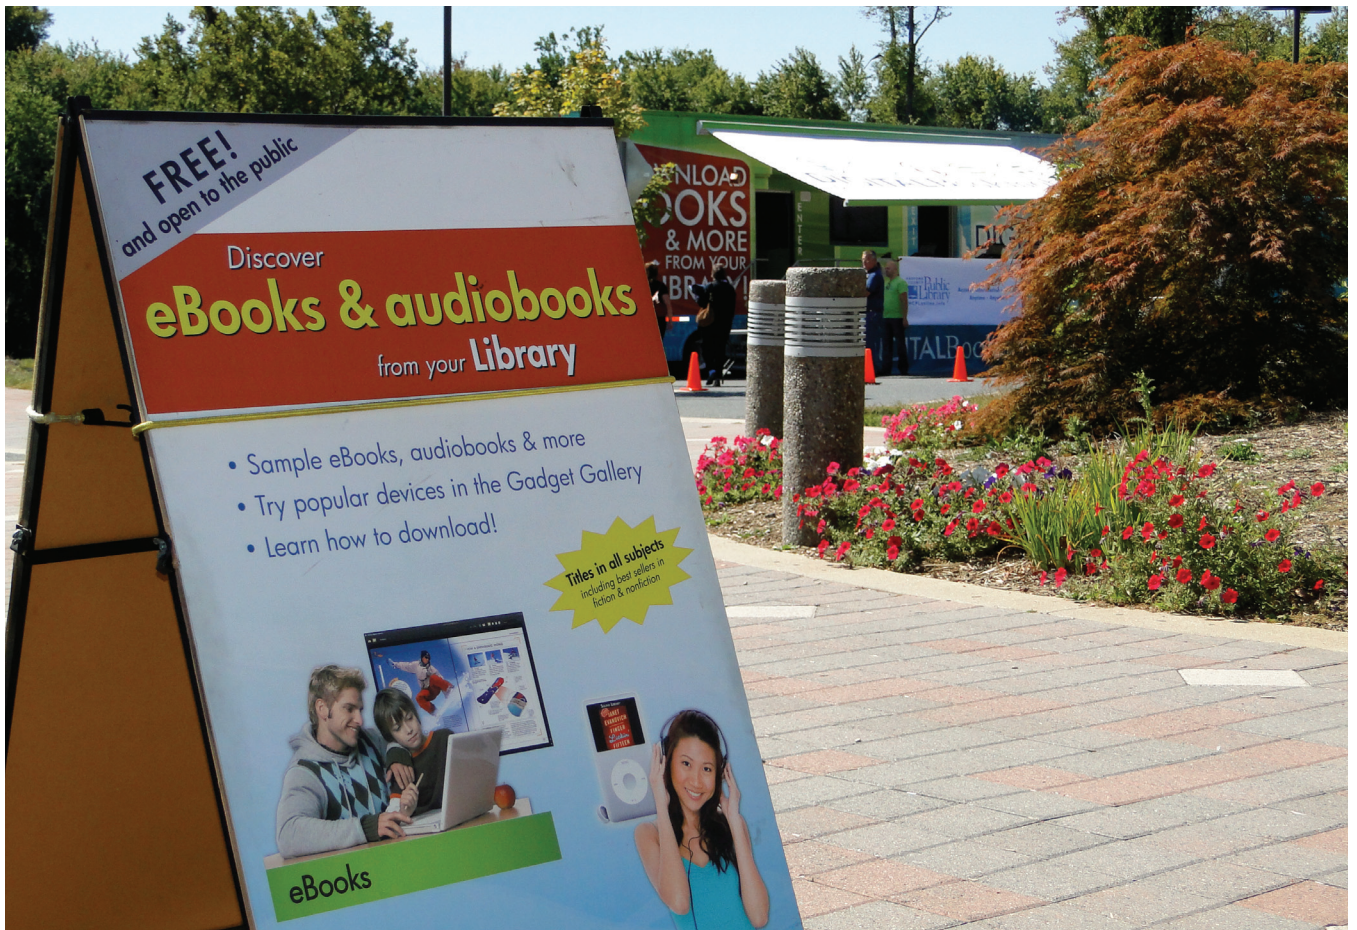

The Silver Reader travels to senior centers, nursing homes and assisted living facilities throughout Harford County bringing books, DVDs and computers to seniors. During the past year, 152 visitors became new Silver Reader customers, many of whom received library cards for the very first time. Both the Silver Reader and Rolling Reader have been frequent attractions at many community outreach events during the past year.

The Opening the Gift and Sharing the Gift programs bring pre and early literacy programs to our youngest customers in licensed day care and nursery school settings. Pre-literacy activities and story times such as Diaper Gang, help promote the development of school readiness skills and promote the love of reading.

The Harford County Public Library STEM initiative, LEAP: Learning, Explore and Play—Science is Fun take home kits provide the opportunity for youth to explore many science themes and gain hands-on experience. The library has been hard at work at expanding the four walls of the library virtually!

THE PUBLIC GETS A

THE PUBLIC GETS A DIGITAL EXPERIENCE

The Digital Bookmobile National Tour, provided by OverDrive, Inc., made a stop at the Abingdon Library in September. Readers of all ages learned how to remotely download digital books from the Library's collection through interactive demonstrations. Bestsellers and new releases are available for free to library customers to download to their account. Participants were also able to visit a Gadget Gallery featuring the latest eReader devices.

Harford County Public Library, through the Maryland Digital eLibrary, supports over 15 types of eReader devices including the popular Kindle and Nook.

Customers can download eBooks for free through the library website from the comfort of their home. The collection of titles includes best sellers and award winning literature.

Harford County Public Library also launched the Children's Digital Library giving children access to their own eBooks through Tumblebooks®, Scholastics Bookflix and Trueflix, and the International Children's Digital Library. Children can view these collections at home or while visiting the library.

COMMUNITY SUPPORT FROM NEAR AND FAR

Harford County Public Library recognizes the importance of fostering science, technology, engineering, and mathematical (STEM) talent and has developed the free, educational LEAP programming and take-home kits to enhance interest and competence in these fields. Sponsorship support from the Northeastern Maryland Technology Council to expand the number of take-home LEAP kits, and from SAIC which funds science related programs, make STEM learning a reality at Harford County Public Library.

Plans are underway to develop an early literacy area in the Children's Department of the Bel Air Library and the Harford County Public Library Foundation campaign is making this possible. The Library Foundation is nearing the goal of raising $50,000, through the very generous support of the Greater Bel Air Community Foundation, the Bel Air Friends of the Library, the Morris A. Mechanic Foundation, and many others.

Family literacy is supported through the Families Read and Succeed literacy program. An award of $49,735 was given by the Maryland Family Literacy Initiative funded through The Barbara Bush Foundation for Family Literacy. Harford County Public Library was the only library-led initiative in the State to receive funding.

SPECIAL GUESTS VISIT THE LIBRARY

SPECIAL GUESTS VISIT THE LIBRARY

Information and knowledge found in libraries is brought to life with visits from the authors who write the books, the performers who create the music, and the artists who draw the illustrations.

Authors who visited the library this year include Newbery Honor and Fisher Children's Book Award winner Jane Conly; RITA award-winning and New York Times best-selling authors, Mary Jo Putney and Tracy Anne Warren; and Harford County's own Jennifer Vido and Joseph Cassilly. Other notable visitors included an appearance by Mark Twain (Branson, Missouri entertainer, Dave Ehlert); Audie Award winner and Recorded Books superstar, Johnny Heller; Warren Capps, the Senior Game Designer at Breakaway, Ltd.; and wildlife photographer Irene Hinke-Sacilotto.

Record numbers of people turned out for events at the library. More than 18,600 children and teens participated in the Summer Reading Program with 122,000 books read.

Important fundraising dollars were increased beyond expectation. Both of the Foundation's signature events, A Night Out @ the Library and the annual gala, were a huge success. This year's Mad Hatter's Ball raised more than $135,000.
